

The House on the Hill
Sunday

Dear God,

I hope you are well. I am writing this letter with a heavy heart. A terrible hailstorm came yesterday and destroyed all my crops completely. The field, which was full of corn plants, now looks ruined. My family and I worked very hard for many months, but everything has been lost in just a few minutes.

God, you know that my family depends only on these crops for food and money. Without them, we will suffer from hunger this year. I have strong faith in you and I believe that you will help us in this difficult time.

I request you to kindly send me one hundred pesos so that I can buy seeds again and take care of my family until the next harvest. I trust you completely because only you can help me now.

Yours faithfully,
Lencho
